Rains Hinder Good Turn Day

The wet weather on Saturday, November 17 sabotaged Good Turn Day, Scouting's annual contribution to the rehabilitation programs of The Salvation Army and Goodwill Industries. Because of rains, thousands of pounds of discarded clothing and other used items were not picked up by stranded Scouts. As a consequence, the two agencies face a shortage of material needed to provide employment and work therapy for their handicapped and disadvantaged clients.

However, agency spokesmen noted, it is still possible to pick up the pieces. Householders whose bags of discards were not collected are asked to call the Good Turn number, 893-3004, or the local Goodwill or Salvation Army to summon a pick-up truck.

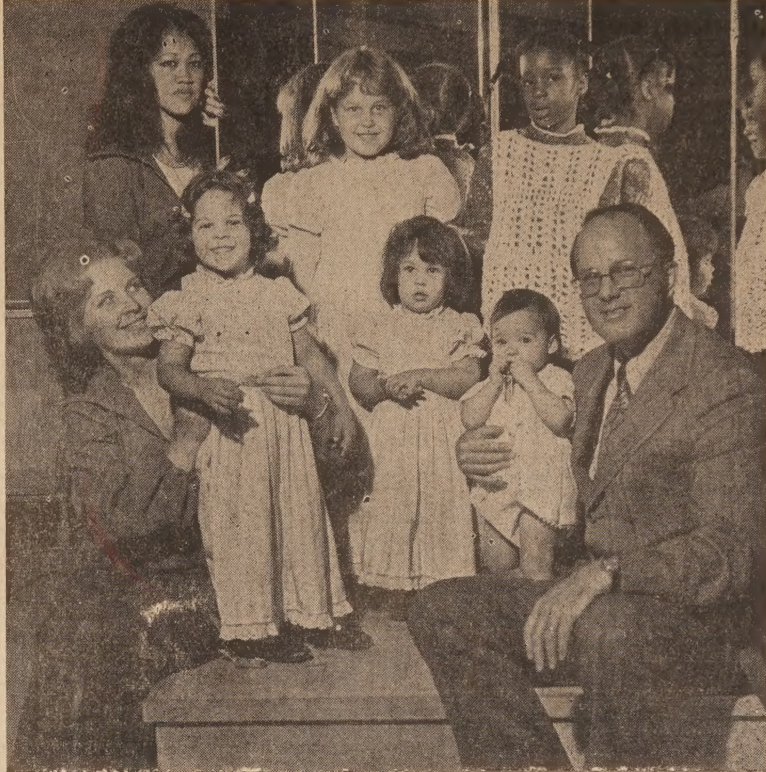

While final figures were not yet available, it was believed that the total poundage collected Saturday was less than half that expected. On the previous Saturday Scouts distributed some 360,000 special Good Turn bags to households throughout the Greater Bay Area. But the rains created delays or cancellations of Scout collection efforts and many bags were never picked up.

It is these bags that the two agencies are prepared to belatedly collect.

Santa's Village Trip Scheduled

The Albany Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a trip to Santa's Village on Saturday, December 15th. Children ages 6 to 10 attending Albany Schools or residing in Albany are eligible to sign up. Registrations will be accepted beginning Monday, November 26th through Monday, December 10th at the Parks and Recreation Office only, 1000 San Pablo Ave.

Cost is $4.50 which includes the bus trip, insurance, entrance fee and five rides. Children will be picked up at 9:30 a.m. at Memorial Park located at the corner of Portland and Ramona Streets and will return at 5 p.m. to the same location. All children are asked to bring a bag lunch.

rear are Anna Chang, Minka Gupton and Kelly Mouton. Adult and youth fashions will be modeled in the Little Theater starting at 7:45 p.m. An Adult School arts and crafts exhibit will also be featured.

Short Agenda at Last City Council Meet

The full council of the city of Albany moved quickly through a short agenda at the regular meeting last week, November 19 at 8 p.m.

A report from the Nursing Division, Health Department, for October, 1973 was filed, as was a notice before the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California.

The council approved payment of claims totaling $17,132.89. A communication from John D. Duncan, Chairman of the Traffic and Safety Commission regarding the widening of Dartmouth Street between San Pablo Avenue and Masonic Avenue was referred to the Engineering Department for review of the parking situation.

Councilman Call moved that Samuel Dows be appointed UN Day Committee Chairman to serve through the next subsequent UN Day, and the council so voted. A communication from Dario Meneketti regarding the energy crisis was filed, and Mayor Howell commented on efforts such as no Christmas lights to conserve energy.

Willard Wehe, a representative of the Alameda County Sheriff's Department spoke during the Public Hearing on behalf of a microwave installation on the Fire Department Building. Councilman Hein moved that a permit be granted to build the 40 foot tower and the motion was approved by a 5-0 vote.

Councilman Clark moved for the adoption of Resolution No. 73-95, which approves agreement with the Berkeley Humane Society, and also Ordinance No. 73-011, an amendment of the Zoning Ordinance. Councilman Carlevaro introduced and moved for adoption Resolution No. 73-96, "A Resolution of the Council of the City of Albany approving Final Map No. 3528 and accepting the dedication of a 17 foot strip for purposes of Pierce Street widening." The council voted in favor of the resolutions and the ordinance.

Children's Hosp. Festival of Trees

Want to buy an Oakland A's "tree" fashioned with brilliant brass plated bats and decked with baseballs autographed by all the team champions?

Or, how about an exquisitely designed Bonsai-type tree with hundreds of red birds which actually "chirp?"

Those are but two of more than 200 small decorated trees, sculptures, centerpieces and wall hangings to be displayed for sale at the 23rd annual "Festival of Christmas Trees" benefiting Children's Hospital Medical Center, November 29 through December 5 at Hotel Claremont, Berkeley.

The week-long spectacular, sponsored by the Hospital Branches, gets underway with a Cocktail Preview party from 6 to 11 p.m., Thursday, November 29. Tickets at $3 each (including one complimentary libation) are available from Branch members or at the door.

General admission tickets for daily showings, November 30 through December 5, 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., may also be purchased at the door for $1 (25 cents for children under 12).

Event coordinator Mrs. L. Robert Cameto of Montclair reminds visitors that although all trees and decorative pieces are for sale starting Preview night, the entire display will remain intact until the evening of December 5.

Energy Crisis Topic At City Council Meeting

The full council of the city of Albany dealt with a short agenda in a matter of minutes at the regular meeting Monday, November 26 at 8 p.m. in the Council Chambers.

Before an audience of 18, the council approved payment of claims totaling $4,379.08 and also payment of payroll for the period November 1, through November 15, 1973, totaling $47,719.29.

The transfer of Off-Sale General Liquor Permit for the premises located at 865 San Pablo Avenue, Max's Liquors, was approved.

A communication from Ed Reinecke, Lieutenant Governor of California, regarding the current energy crisis was read. James B. Turner, Administrative Assistant, commented that the city of Albany has taken steps to decrease its energy use, such as turning off unnecessary lighting and motors and lowering thermostats in city buildings.

The energy crisis was further discussed. A letter from the League of California Cities summarized actions pending before the Environmental Protection Agency on November 29 which would restrict automobile use. Councilman Dick Clark moved that the city reply negatively to the proposals before the agency and it was so ordered.

Under Good of the City, Councilman Carlevaro suggested that Mr. Turner meet with Golden Gate Fields representatives and Albany auto dealers to discuss the effects of the energy crisis on them. He further suggested that if their businesses were affected by the energy crisis and the city lost revenue from them, the budget should be adjusted to compensate for the loss.

Mr. Turner was also requested to attend a meeting on Wednesday, November 28 regarding a proposed annexation of property by El Cerrito.

Dario Meneketti commended the council for its efforts to cope with the energy crisis, and requested that the council continue to look after the interests of Albany citizens in regard to this matter. The meeting closed on this note.

Chamber Asks Anti-Smog Rules Reconsideration

Members of the Board of Directors of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, stunned at the far-reaching ramifications of the Environmental Protection Agency's anti-smog regulations, outlined in a recently released 1135 page publication, have voted to have Chamber Manager, Hal Denham, send letters to the Alameda County Chamber Managers Association, the Golden Gate Association of Chamber Executives (comprising representatives of all Northern California chambers), and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D. C., calling attention to provisions of the regulations which could eventually prove disastrous to all businesses offering parking to their customers and/or employees.

One provision, slated to take effect July 1, 1974, would force all cities of 100,000 population or more, to set a 10-cent-an-hour charge on all commercial parking, between the hours of 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., except on weekends and holidays, with an additional 10 cent increase the following year, and a total charge of 25 cents to be imposed by July 1, 1976.

An owner, supplying five or more free parking spaces, would have to pay $180 each a year starting next year, $360 per space by July, 1975 and $450 July, 1976. This would result in large shopping centers being forced to pay hundreds of thousands of dollars per year to operate free parking lots for their customers.

Supermarkets would also be charged for their parking lots, resulting in higher food prices to absorb the fee, which could result in "economic chaos" according to San Francisco Mayor, Joseph Alioto.

Employers, who supply more than 70 free stalls for employees, would be forced to charge them the same rate as commercial lots, plus an additional one dollar a day beginning next July, with the extra charge going up to two dollars in 1975 and to two dollars and fifty cents the following year. Employers with more than fifty workers would also be required to pay them up to $200 per year in tickets, in order to encourage them to use mass transit, which could place an enormous burden on much of the existing mass transit.

Bay Area city developers, note, however, if all major cities in the U.S. are forced to order additions to their present transit systems, because of enforced regulations, it would probably take years before all the buses, trains and streetcars could be manufactured and delivered.

Although two public hearings on the regulations were held recently in San Francisco, so little publicity was given to them that most people were totally unaware of them. Consequently, the Albany Chamber is urging its membership, and any and all other interested individuals, to contact their congressmen to force a reopening of the hearings to give the public a chance to voice their opinions.

NOTICE

The Albany City Council will hold a continued public hearing on the Open Space Element Plan on Monday, December 3, 1973, at 8 p.m. in the Council Chambers, 1000 San Pablo Avenue.

The Open Space Element of the General Plan is available for review in the office of the City Engineer and the Library.

The Path Of Least Disturbance

In the past few years, the United States has embarked on a new era of environmental concern that has altered our outlook about a number of things.

Once, when we saw a smokestack topped by full plume of black smoke, we thought of men working, of things being produced. Now we think of the air being polluted.

Once, when we saw a parking lot full of automobiles, we marveled at our nation's prosperity. Now we think of oil being consumed and noxious gases spewed from exhaust pipes, of acres of land given over to highways.

Yet America can't reverse the tide of industrial progress—not if our present standard of living is to be maintained. So ways must be found to strike a balance—to conserve natural resources and obtain maximum production of goods and services with minimum environmental damage.

For some industries, the answers may be long and hard in coming. In the transportation industry—important to all other industries—we are lucky. We have the railroads.

Today, railroads haul more freight than the trucks and water carriers and airlines combined. And railroads are easy on the environment. Water carriers and pipelines are relatively easy on the environment, too, but water carriers are limited geographically, and pipelines are limited as to the commodities they can move.

Railroads and trucks are the two modes which have the greatest geographic range and can carry the widest range of products.

Of the two, railroads get the nod, environmentally speaking.

They use a right-of-way that occupies far less land—and can carry far more traffic—than the highways.

The diesel engine used in both railroad locomotives and trucks is a cleaner engine, in terms of polluting emissions, than the gasoline-burning engines used in most automobiles. But less energy is required to roll a metal wheel over a metal rail than is required to roll a rubber tire over a highway, and most studies have concluded that railroads put out about one-third the emissions of diesel trucks, per net ton-mile.

An even more direct result of the physical efficiency of railroads relates to fuel. The energy shortage of this winter drove home with brutal force the message that the nation's reserves of fuel are not inexhaustible.

Railroads and diesel trucks use the same kind of fuel oil. But, in 1971, railroads bought only about half the amount of fuel oil that was bought for use in highway diesel vehicles—of which trucks make up the greatest percentage by far. In the same year, railroads carried nearly twice the ton-miles carried by intercity trucks.

The point of all this is not to suggest that the use of highway trucks be discontinued in favor of railroads. The nation needs all her transportation modes—and that need is increasing.

But without railroads, that could mean an unacceptable increase in environmental damage and in consumption of natural resources.

With railroads, we can breathe a little easier.

Helen Baum, who always walks (course SHE is in good shape), will be sponsored by members of the March of Dimes board.

The one who deserves the most credit is Mrs. Bill (Helen) McKenna, who has multiple sclerosis and is confined to a wheel chair. She will be pushed by Harold Van Coops, former MOD chairman here. Helen has been involved in the March of Dimes for many, many years. She used to march, appear in fashion shows and actively participate. ## El Cerrito Rolls in 4-0 Win vs. Morelia Albany to Meet Last Year's Winner

The whistle blew and the game started—but so did the rain. And a happy rain-soaked El Cerrito squad came out on top with a 4-0 win over Oakland, Morelia, in East Bay Soccer League action Sunday.

First goal of the afternoon was a setup by newcomer forward, Robert Moorrees, who passed into Lauri Rissanen right in front of the goal in the 14th minute.

Six minutes later Coach Adolf Bauer received the ball in midfield and broke away from his defenders, racing in for a neat shot past the Morelia goalie. Two second half goals by top scorer Jeff Gillet, completed the rout for El Cerrito, which is running neck and neck with arch rival TriValley. The TriValley, Pleasanton team is ahead on points by virtue of a one game ahead schedule.

The second game of the afternoon saw the sun break through and shine on an up and coming Diablo Valley team which topped Hayward United, 4-2.

Looking ahead to next weekend, Albany returns to action after a three week rain layoff. Cougar Field's 12:30 p.m. game will pit the home team against last year's champ, Richmond International Chimu, which stands just one point below in second division league standings.

The 2:15 encounter will have a revitalized St. Bernard team taking on San Leandro Benfica in first division play. San Leandro just missed edging league leader TriValley last week so it looks good for a tough battle between two evenly matched contenders.

The Candy Cane Coach, AC Transit's special holiday bus, rolled into service Friday, November 23 with gifts for youngsters and entertainment for adults.

The bus, an annual tradition for AC Transit, had Santa Claus aboard to hear children's Christmas requests. Saint Nick, in the person of Nicholas P. Alevizos, Transportation Superintendent for AC Transit's Division 3 in Richmond, dispensed good will and candy.

The decorated bus is now operating in regular service, but without Santa Claus. It has holiday music for passengers' pleasure. Regular passengers are carried and usual bus fares are charged.

No Jail, No Jury -- Just 'Fines'

Starting January 1, 1974, you can't be sent to jail for certain minor "moving violations," nor tried by a jury. Like some other city ordinances, such as dog leash laws, these violations are now deemed "infractions."

You'll have no right to free court-appointed counsel; you can be fined.

The new law applies to most of the rules of the road. But the law is still tough on driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs, reckless driving, speed contest or exhibitions or throwing substances at vehicles. You can still make the pokey if you disobey orders of traffic officers, give false information, or use a vehicle to trespass. These can mean fine AND jail.

What are these new "infractions?" They include disobeying signs, pedestrian rights, speed limits, auto standards. It was already an infraction to violate parking laws, certain equipment requirements and to drive without a license in your possession.

One who drives more than 25,000 miles a year gets a special allowance for violations. He is not presumed to be a negligent driver until he has six "points" in 12 months, eight in 24 months or 10 in 36 months. Those who drive less than 25,000 miles are said to be legally negligent when they have four or more points in 12 months, six in 24 months, or eight in 36 months.

Don't be a negligent driver: your insurance will go up or your license may be suspended. Every driver should know that a point is charged him when he has a minor moving violation or is responsible for an accident. Reckless driving, drunk driving, speed contesting are more serious. A felony such as drunk driving with injuries may cause you to forfeit your driver's license even though you have a low point count.

A person who violates an or-

Artillery Punch

Artillery Punch, ladled from a large punch bowl into small cups, should be served cold.

The famed Artillery Punch was created by the Chatham Artillery National Guard unit honoring President Monroe in 1819 as he visited several places in Georgia. The mixture was made with one purpose in mind: to banish inhibitions.

The southern Artillery Punch, served with a molded ice ring and garnished with strawberries, is an excellent punch for anytime entertaining—especially as a salute to the Fourth of July.

Artillery Punch

3 cups water
2 1/2 cups Instant Nestea
1 bottle (4 1/2 qt.) bourbon
1 bottle (4 1/2 qt.) claret
2 cups orange juice
1 1/2 cups dark Jamaican rum

1 cup lemon juice
3/4 cup dry gin
3/4 cup brandy
4 to 6 10-oz. pkgs. frozen, sliced strawberries, thawed

In large bowl combine water and Nestea; stir until dissolved. Add bourbon, claret, orange juice, rum, lemon juice, gin and brandy. Place sliced strawberries, one pkg. at a time, in blender container and process at high speed until well blended. Add blended berries to Nestea mixture. Let stand, covered, several hours to ripen. Serve in 1-gal. punch bowl over large ice ring. Garnish with large strawberries, if desired.

Makes approximately 45-60 4-oz. servings.

Parking and Leaving Bike

Timely Lessons For Our Young Area Bicyclists

By JOHN T. FORD,
Albany Police Dept.
Bicycle Detail

Parking and leaving your bike sounds simple enough. One would think that he would simply find some place to lean the bike and leave it there, or use the kick stand. However, there are a few very important things to think about before you park and leave your bike.

1. Is it out of the way so that no one will easily fall over it?
2. Is it out of the way of traffic, so a car isn't likely to run over it because the driver can't see it?
3. Is it properly protected against theft?

Most buildings where people on bikes go frequently provide bike stands and special areas for bicyclists to park their bikes. Always be sure, if such a place is provided you use it. Bicyclists must know that bike parked on a sidewalk, for example, in front of a store, is very hard to notice if there is a lot of foot traffic. Elderly people especially frequently do not see parked bikes and often fall over them. Sometimes, a person, elderly or not, can get painful injuries in this manner. So park your bike where it is out of the way of foot traffic. That is the safe and courteous thing to do for everyone concerned.

Now, looking at it from the standpoint of saving damage to your bike, it stands to reason that you should not park your bike close to parked cars, behind, or in front of them. Always be sure that your bike is parked away from parked vehicles, and in plain view of traffic that may be going by. For example, if you were to park your bike, using the kick stand, in an alley near the entrance, a car might turn into the alley very rapidly and never see your bike until it was too late, for the driver would not be expecting a bike to be parked in this manner.

Another problem that you must think about whenever you park your bike is properly locking it to avoid theft. A rapidly growing problem today is stolen bicycles. It is big business.

There are actually bicycle thieves who travel from town to town in trucks, picking up bicycles as they go. Then they transport them to another state and sell them. Of course, a bike that is not locked in any manner could be easily and quickly picked up and loaded into a truck before anyone might notice. So it is in your best interest to always lock your bike, even if you are going to leave it only for a few moments. There are various types of bike locks, but the one suggested as the best is a lock which uses a long chain, allowing you to wrap the chain around a light post, or other objects that cannot be moved. There are various types of chains available, but some of them can be easily cut with a tool made especially for this purpose. Your best bet is a good padlock and a chain made of case-hardened steel. See your bike shop for these items and see to it that you get and use them. The cost is good insurance against losing your bike to thieves.

CALIFORNIA EXHAUST EMISSION CONTROL REGULATION FOR 1966-1970 CARS

If you own a 1966 through 1970 car chances are that between January 1, 1974 and October 31, 1974, you will be required by law to have an additional exhaust emission control device installed on your car.

The California State Automobile Association wants to alert motorists that the date they are required to have the new device in operation is determined by the LAST number of their car's California license plate. (Note that last digits 1 & 2 have the same deadline.)

DEADLINES

Last Number	Date	Last Number	Date
1	February 28, 1974	6	June 30, 1974
2	February 28, 1974	7	July 31, 1974
3	March 31, 1974	8	August 31, 1974
4	April 30, 1974	9	September 30, 1974
5	May 31, 1974	0	October 31, 1974

In both the above examples the last number is 3 — thus the deadline is March 31, 1974

As indicated above, starting in January, 1974, all cars bearing the number 1 (one) as the LAST digit must have a device installed by the last day of February. Each month thereafter a new digit becomes the key. The schedule continues sequentially (see above schedule) for ten consecutive months through the last day of October, 1974 for cars with 0 (zero) as the LAST digit.

Personalized license plates, or plates having letters only, come under the regulation with a deadline of October 31, 1974

Meanwhile, 1966 through 1970 cars whose registration is changed due to sale, transfer, or re-registration in California, must comply immediately within the nine county San Francisco Bay Area Air Basin.

Noncompliance with the regulation can result in fines up to $50. Field enforcement of the regulation is the responsibility of the California Highway Patrol. Windshield decals will be issued to indicate compliance or exemption.

Installation should be made by a licensed, certified installer at a California State certified installation facility. The law requires that all costs for the device, including installation and certification must not exceed $35.

In cases involving a transfer of title an additional charge may be made for inspection of emission control devices already installed.

Some vehicles are exempt. CSAA advises car owners that a certified installer knows the exempted vehicles, and can determine whether or not a specific car requires a device.

Inspection for exempt vehicles may cost approximately $5.

Annual Sale at Turnabout Shop

Saturday, December 1 is the opening day for the Berkeley Clinic Auxiliary's Annual Christmas Sale at the Turnabout Shop. Located at 1801 Grove Street, Berkeley, the shop will be open on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. through December 15.

A wide range of items for holiday giving or decorating has been collected by auxiliary members for the sale. Shoppers will find a selection of gift ideas at bargain prices. Mrs. Farrington Tweedy of Berkeley is chairman of the sale.

Open since 1954 and staffed by volunteers, the Turnabout Shop is the sole source of income for the Berkeley Clinic Auxiliary. The auxiliary provides financial assistance to various organizations in the community. While the main project is an orthodontia program for needy children referred by the Berkeley Public Health Nursing Service, grants are made to Alta Bates Health Career Assistance Program and Herrick Memorial Hospital. Contributions are also made to the California School for the Deaf and Blind, East Bay Activity Center, Berkeley Christmas Committee, Berkeley Humane Society, Involvement Core, ASUC Camperships, and the Berkeley Senior Center.

UC MOTHERS' CLUB

The University of California Mothers' Club has planned an all-day meeting for Tuesday, December 4. Bridge is at 9:30, followed by "Christmas from Your Garden" at 10:30, choral at 11:30, lunch at 12:30, a business meeting at 1:15 and a program of Christmas music at 1:30.

LAW IN ACTION

WHOSE FAULT?

"But my little girl's only five," Hank said. "How could she make that whole brick wall fall down?"

Hank, his wife, and their daughter Linda had just moved into a new house. While Hank and his wife unpacked, Linda played outside. She was climbing the garden wall when it fell down. Linda's leg was broken in the accident.

"There must have been something wrong with the way it was built," Hank decided. So he sued Charlie, the former owner who built the wall.

"I warned my kids about climbing walls," Charlie told the court. "It's not my fault that Hank can't control his own kid."

"But you knew that the wall was built without reinforcing steel," said Hank's attorney. "Something your buyers could only know if you had told them. Which you did not."

"The thing speaks for itself—res ipsa loquitur," the court said. "Because the wall collapsed so easily, it is valid to assume that Charlie constructed it poorly."

"The wall appeared to be sturdy and solid. Charlie should have expected children to climb it," the court added. "He is liable since he didn't strengthen the wall properly. Or give any warning to new occupants."

It's not always easy to prove that someone was negligent. Still, common sense tells that accidents don't happen unless someone wasn't careful.

Take the case of the negligent landlord. Tenant Tess walked on her outdoor stairway and through the top step. She injured her ankle and hip in the fall. And sued her landlord for negligence.

"That step gave way because you wouldn't fix it," Tess told the court. "I told her landlord. They were loose that water seeped under the wood and rotted the wood."

Tess sued her landlord. The court ruled in her favor. "What actually caused the step to give is not certain," said. "But it gave way for some reason. So there must have been negligence."
